

Mas-TechProject

Executive Summary

SouthAfrica is not resistance to the effect of climate change. The effects ofclimate change are already observable extreme droughts, heat wave, tropicalcyclones, and yes the melting of ice caps while we can't look at every weatherphenomenon and immediately point to climate change the increase frequency andintensity of these events on a global scale is an indicator that climate ishappening

DPW Property

Policy Name Here

Methodology

SouthAfrica is not resistance to the effect of climate change. The effects ofclimate change are already observable extreme droughts, heat wave, tropicalcyclones, and yes the melting of ice caps while we can't look at every weatherphenomenon and immediately point to climate change the increase frequency andintensity of these events on a global scale is an indicator that climate ishappening

Company Information

Cost Plan Summary

Climate change is defined as changes in climate caused,directly or indirectly, by human activities which alter the composition of theatmosphere.<o:p />

Conclusion

Climate change is defined as changes in climate caused,directly or indirectly, by human activities which alter the composition of theatmosphere.<o:p />